FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK: CATHOLIC EDUCATION WEEK

In regards to the issue of education we know that all school systems strive for excellence, accountability, equity and partnership. The Catholic School System has an added dimension in that Christ is the foundation of the whole educational process. In the Vatican document entitled "The Catholic School" we read that "the whole existence of a Catholic school, its operation, function, agenda, curriculum, activities both academic and otherwise should resonate with the message, the values and indeed, the very presence of Jesus." The mission of a Catholic School is twofold: one being to teach in the context enriched by faith and to teach a culture of life that upholds justice, peace and human solidarity and challenges the unjust structures and destructive tendencies; the other mandate is to catechize, to nurture the faith and promote a life-style based on Gospel values and the Church's teachings. It could be said that the reason why parents send their children to Catholic schools is to provide them with the service of both ministries. Parents want to see a growth in faith and morals, character formation and a deepening of their children's commitment to Christ and His church. The proclamation of the Gospel call to community, social justice, service and prayer are vital to the success of the Catholic School System. Parish, home and school must join together to bring to fruition the goals of sound Catholic education for the youth of today who will become the leaders of tomorrow.
